July 2015

Camas Valley Fun Days 2015

The summer season for wild-wheeled action starts July 17th as drivers/riders tune-up and flex their mechanical muscles at the Camas Valley Fun Days. Sponsored by Camas Valley's Mud Dawgs, this family fun motor event supports the Camas Valley Volunteer Fire Department Building Fund.

All the particulars are on the flyer on page 6. This is a must attend event! The competition is fast and friendly. The fun lasts all weekend!

Don't miss the Fireworks!

The first Saturday in July is Independence Day and Camas Valley knows how to celebrate! Bring your chair and comfy blanket to the football field: plan on the kids running themselves exhausted before the fireworks begin. This is truly a family event. Bring your own fireworks if you want, but be prepared for a mind-blowing aerial display once dusk has arrived. The Pyro's know how to put on a spectacular, non-stop event! Donations will be accepted at both gates and will go toward next year's show. Need more information? Call Tina at 541-733-6083 or Mary Helen at 541-643-6317.

Gate help needed!

Enjoy the excitement at the Camas Valley Fun Days? Want to save some money and still get to go? Helpers at the gate get in FREE! All you have to do is get the release forms to entering vehicles so they can sign. Greet your friends and neighbors and enjoy the competitions. Call Vonnie at 541-445-2355.

Food Pantry

This has been a warm spring and gardens are responding to the sun and scattered rains. I saw hay baled in Tenmile on the 8th of May! If your garden is off to a good start, how about planning on sharing some of your abundance with those less fortunate? Winston-Dillard Food Pantry would love to share your produce with hungry kids in our area. Don't know about yours, but my kids couldn't figure out why I didn't get after them for stealing/eating the snap peas out of the garden...

Just call
Betty 541-445-2855.

July Grange Happenings

- ♦ Tues. July 7th Ladies' Luncheon at noon with bingo after.
- ♦ Tues. July 14th at 10 AM, is the business meeting to plan the next luncheons.
- ♦ Tues. July 28th Senior luncheon at noon with bingo afterwards.

WHAT IS CANCER IMMUNOTHERAPY?

I dedicate this article to a doctor friend of mine who is up at OHSU going through immunotherapy clinical trials for his cancer after all other cancer therapy approaches have failed. This is cutting edge stuff and a wonderful opportunity.

Immunotherapy is a very active area of cancer research. Many scientists and doctors around the world are studying new ways to use it to treat cancer. Immunotherapy is treatment that uses certain parts of a person's immune system to fight diseases such as cancer. This can be done in a couple of ways. (1) stimulating your own immune system to work harder/smarter to attack cancer cells or (2) giving you immune system components, such as man-made immune system proteins.

For a long time doctors suspected that the immune system could affect certain cancers. Even before the immune system was well understood, William Coley, MD, first noted that getting an infection after surgery seemed to help some cancer patients. In the late 1800's he began treating cancer patients by infecting them with certain kinds of bacteria, which came to be known as Coley toxins. Although he had some success, his technique was overshadowed when other forms of cancer treatment, such as radiation therapy, came into use.

Since then, doctors have learned a great deal about the immune system and how it might be used to treat cancer. In the last few decades immunotherapy has become an important part of treating some types of cancer. Newer types of immune treatments are now being studied for many other types and they'll impact how we treat cancer in the future.

Immunotherapy includes treatments that work in different ways; some boost the body's immune system in a very general way, others help train the immune system to attack cancer cells specifically.

Monoclonal antibodies (mAbs) have already become an important part of the treatment for many cancers. As researchers have learned more about what makes cancer cells different from normal cells, they have developed mAbs to exploit these differences. They have also developed newer forms of mAbs, attaching them to drugs or other substances to make them more powerful.

Vaccines are not yet a major type of treatment for cancer. Researchers have been trying to develop vaccines to fight cancer for decades, but this has proven to be harder than was first thought. While the immune system is very complex, cancer cells have different ways of eluding the immune system, which makes creating effective vaccines difficult. The immune system has checkpoints to keep itself from attacking other normal cells in the body. Cancer cells sometimes take advantage of these checkpoints to avoid being attacked by the immune system.

Helper T cell

Some other forms of immunotherapy are being studied to try to boost specific parts of the immune system. These types of treatments show promise, but they are complex and so far are available only through clinical trials being done at major medical centers.

THIS IS SO INTERESTING: chimeric antigen receptor (CAR) T-cell therapy is a promising new way to get immune cells called T-cells to fight cancer. For this technique, T-cells are removed from the patient's blood and genetically altered in the lab to have specific antigen receptors (called chimeric antigen receptors, or CARs) on their surface. These receptors will attach to proteins on the surface of cancer cells. The T-cells are then multiplied in the lab and infused back into the patient's blood where they can now seek out the cancer cells and launch a precise immune attack against them.

This technique has shown very encouraging results in early clinical trials against some advanced, hard-to-treat types of leukemia and lymphomas. In many people the cancer could no longer be detected after treatment, although it's not yet clear if these people have been cured.

Some people have had serious side effects from this treatment, including very high fevers and dangerously low blood pressure in the days after it's given. Doctors are learning how to manage these side effects.

Doctors are still improving how they make the T-cells and are learning the best ways to use them. They are also studying whether this treatment will work for other types of cancer. CAR T-cell therapy is only available in clinical trials at this time.

Researchers have found immune system cells deep inside some tumors and have named these cells tumor-infiltrating lymphocytes (TILs). These T-cells can be removed from tumor samples taken from patients and made to multiply in the lab by treating them with IL-2. When injected back into the patient, these cells can be active cancer fighters.

Treatments using TILs are being tested in clinical trials in people with melanoma, kidney cancer, ovarian cancer, and other cancers. Early studies of this approach by researchers from the National Cancer Institute have been promising but its use may be limited because doctors might not be able to get TILs from all patients.

Good health is a wonderful and mysterious, sought after condition. I wish everyone that is touched by cancer (whether it is a family member or friend) that cures will be found.

I wish you well...

Fireworks by the numbers

- In 2011, fireworks caused an estimated 17,800 reported fires, including 1,200 total structure fires, 400 vehicle fires, and 16,300 outside and other fires. These fires resulted in an estimated eight reported civilian deaths, 40 civilian injuries and $32 million in direct property damage.
- In 2012, U.S. hospital emergency rooms treated an estimated 8,700 people for fireworks related injuries; 55% of 2012 emergency room fireworks-related injuries were to the extremities and 31% were to the head.
- The risk of fireworks injury was highest for young people ages 15-24, followed by children under 10.
- On Independence Day in a typical year, far more U.S. fires are reported than on any other day, and fireworks account for two out of five of those fires, more than any other cause of fires.

Farewell from Mr. Naugle

It is hard to believe that it has been seven years since my first day on the job here at Camas Valley, and it is also hard for me to believe that my time here has come to an end. I will take away many great memories of sports teams, school activities, Graduation Parties, Proms, and (my personal favorite) the bonfires during Homecoming Week. My goals when I first got here were to help improve the sports teams, start a weightlifting program, and become a better teacher. I think I have accomplished all of those things, while at the same time earning the respect of a community that I did not know existed just seven years ago.

I have many people that I want to thank for making my time here as enjoyable as possible: I want to first acknowledge Patrick Lee who is by far the best administrator I have ever worked for in my ten years of teaching. He cares about this community just as much as he cares for the students and staff here at the school. He will serve all of you well, putting Camas Valley first on his list of priorities. I wanted to thank him personally for allowing me to do my job and giving me the tools to succeed at my job. He was the first one that I felt did that. Thank you Patrick! Along with that I want to thank my fellow staff members of Camas Valley Charter School. This school is not the success that it is without you, and I am proud to call all of you friends. I would not have made it through the tough times, nor enjoyed the great times without you. I especially want to thank Ron & Julie Pope and Mary & Christian Bringham who have been there since the very beginning with all the help they could give. I also want to give a shout out to Eli Wolfe who took a chance on me my very first day of work and allowed me to help with his football program, Vic Baker & Amy Wolfe who took a chance on me and allowed me to help the basketball programs during my first couple of years, and Jeremy Williams who finally gave me my first shot at coaching varsity basketball.

has been moved up to July 9th from July 16th!

BOXTOP NEWS

Making A Splash

Thanks and kudos go out to Mr. Naugle and Mr. Bringhurst for taking the plunge on the last day of school! Thanks also go to all of those who clipped and saved their BoxTops and turned them in. There were 1736 BoxTops brought in for this competition for a total of $173.60.

The Bringhurst Race To The Tank raised $44.75. Votes for this race were made with $$$ and the final decision as to who was to be dunked was decided by $0.13.

BoxTop Results for Race To The Tank

Mr. Naugle earned the honors to make a splash with 1322 votes while Mrs. Fisher had 414 votes. This was probably due in great part to Mrs. Fisher's massive poster campaign (and possibly some bribes).

Mrs. Hutchins' class turned in 516 BoxTops for 1st place and the opportunity for the 1st 3 throws at Mr. Naugle. Mrs. Grant's class turned in 370 BoxTops for 2nd place which earned them throws 4 and 5. Mrs. Carkhuff's class was 3rd with 309 BoxTops, Ms. Neeld's class was 4th with 299 BoxTops, and Mrs. Pope's class was 5th with 223 BoxTops.

Total raised with BoxTops for the year $577.50!!!!

Thank you all for clipping those BoxTops. Keep on clipping and we will see you all next year.

FAREWELL from pg. 7

To my former and present students at Camas Valley, I wanted to thank you for giving your best effort in my classes and teaching me how to be a better teacher. The gifts I have received to finish off my last year were way more than I ever expected. Please remember that once you are a student of mine, those privileges never leave you. If you ever need something, please let me know and I would be glad to help or just hang out for a while. I love you all and good luck with your future.

To the Camas Valley Community, I want to say thank you for allowing me the opportunity to teach your kids. Also, thank you for helping out with any causes that I put together such as the 8th Grade Dodgeball Tournament, the Girls' Basketball Team, and my Cross-Country team. I also want to thank the Camas Valley Fire Department for helping us out with the new weight room. This has been an experience that I will not soon forget. I wanted to personally thank the Peck Family (Byron, Jodi, Kila, & Hailey), The Dancer Family (Pete, Shelly, Ryan, & Brad), the Wolfe Family (Eli, Kirsten, EJ, Kai, Bryson, & Brooklyn), and the Tilton Family (Buddy, Gina, Evan, Weston, and Kayla) for helping me get settled into the community and inviting me over for dinner. It was nice to have someone to talk to besides the walls of my house those first couple of years. Thank you to all!

What an experience it has been, but I feel I am about to embark on an enjoyable new journey filled with my family (old and new), a new job, and a new marriage. Thanks again for all who have wished Cari and I the best as we start our new life together. I promise to do my best to make it down here next year for a football game and maybe a volleyball and/or basketball game too. I will always have the Black and Gold of the Camas Valley Hornets in my heart no matter where I get a job in the future. I hope you will cheer for me as much as I will cheer for you from afar.

Sincerely,
Doug Naugle

We cannot say it loud enough—Thank you, Camas Valley! Thank you to all who donated items to the Camas Valley United Methodist Rummage Sale and thank you to all who took advantage of all the great deals. Because of your rousing participation, our church is sporting a brand new coat of paint! Church members Brad Royal and Steve Wickham did some necessary repair work before the painting began.

The items not sold were donated to the Winston VFW for their rummage sale. And they are very grateful for your donations, too. Plus we collected $68 with the Buddy Poppies for the veterans. Thank you for helping in so many ways!
