Camas Valley and Tenmile Volunteer Fire Departments' 24th Annual Easter Egg Hunt

Mark your calendars for Saturday, April 4th! The famous Easter Bunny is making his appearance again at the Camas Valley School football field with lots of prizes and treats for crawling through 6th grade. Gates open at 10 am and the hunt starts at 10:30 am.

Teresa (541-637-7151) is in charge of the delicious Cake Walk and needs Camas Valley bakers to do that baking voodoo that you do so well! If you haven't donated before, give it a try. We ALL love those treats, no matter what we claim.

After the exhausting thrill of the hunt and a vigorous round of Cake Walk the Camas Valley and Tenmile Volunteer Fire Departments' will have fire trucks for the younger set to ride.

Donation cans are located around town and there is a box at the Bravo for anyone who might like to donate a new bicycle helmet for the event (can be 5 yrs. and up). Even if you are not a baker or have any spare cash to donate, you can come assist with the celebration and help make this another memorable community event!

Questions? Give Vonnie a call at 541-445-2355.

Remember riding on the fire trucks at the Easter Egg Hunt when you were little? Looking down at your beaming face was all the reward those smiling fire fighters needed, because you made them feel like heros. Giving time and effort to your community automatically puts you in hero status. Camas Valley Volunteer Fire Department needs volunteers to help provide fire protection for our community. Be part of a team involved in exciting and fulfilling work. Training is provided, we just need you! Need some more information? Ask any firefighter or come to the Fire Hall any Wednesday evening at 7 pm.

Be a Hero

Have you ever been hungry and not had the money to do anything about it? Worse yet, have your children been hungry and you couldn't do anything about it? If you are now in better financial shape, remember how much it would have meant to you to get a helping hand. Be that help for someone else. It just takes a can in the barrel...

Same dates, different month for Grange!

- ♦ Tues. Mar. 3rd Ladies' Luncheon at noon with bingo after.
- ♦ Tues. Mar. 10th at 10 AM, is the business meeting to plan the next luncheons.
- ♦ Tues. Mar. 24th Senior luncheon at noon with bingo after with proceeds to go to the scholarship fund.

Why an email subscription?

Email allows you to keep friends and family that have left the valley to keep up with the events that affect this community. Or maybe you would just like to get the Flame (in color!) early—by the 26th.

Watershed enhancement project funding available

Landowners looking for financial help with forest, urban, or agricultural projects that have a direct benefit to watershed health can apply for up to $10,000 in assistance. The Oregon Watershed Enhancement Board (OWEB) Small Grant Program provides Oregon Lottery and other grant sourced funds for individual projects that help restore watershed elements such as creeks, rivers and wetlands. Projects must directly benefit improvements to in-stream process and function, fish passage, wetland and riparian process and function, road impact reduction, and water quantity/irrigation efficiency. A number of Camas Valley landowners currently enjoy the benefits of such a collaborative restoration process. Others have applications pending. In the past, students from the Camas Valley Charter School have participated in riparian planting efforts as a part of this program.

Assistance in obtaining “K Line” type water saving irrigation systems, livestock fencing of riparian zones, off-stream livestock watering systems and planting of native riparian trees and shrubs for erosion control and stream shading are all possible examples of the benefits to both landowners and natural systems attainable by successful applicants under this program. Proposals must represent a “win/win” to be approved.

Agreements between applicants and the watershed association may include provisions for in-kind donation (e.g. labor and equipment) and future maintenance. Since at least 25 percent of the project funds must be matched from other sources, applicants' in-kind donations may satisfy the 25% contribution requirement.

Local watershed councils, soil and water conservation districts, and tribes submit applications on behalf of landowners. Local representatives from councils, districts and tribes have established priorities for types of projects to be funded under this program. After local review and approval, applications are forwarded to the Oregon Watershed Enhancement Board (OWEB) with recommendations for funding.

The Coquille Watershed Association (CWA) currently has resources available to fund stream restoration and related projects. The application deadline is the 10th day of each month up to April 15, 2015. The review process usually takes less than 30 days. Successful applicants have two years to complete the funded project.

Locally, Camas Valley resident Pat Quinn is a volunteer member of the Coquille Watershed Association Executive Council and is available for general information at 541 445 2325 (jquinn@jeffnet.org). More detailed information and application forms may be obtained by calling the association executive director, Ms. Kelly Miles, at 541 396 2541 (kelly_miles@frontier.com) at the CWA offices, in Coquille. More information may also be found at OWEB's Small Grant Web page at www.oregon.gov/OWEB/GRANTS/Pages/smgrant_main.aspx

What are all those spots? Wow, it's measles!

I was taking a friend into Roseburg the other day and we started talking about the measles. His question was, “What is the big deal if you get measles? As a kid in Ohio I was taken to a family’s house that had measles so I and my four siblings would get measles. They did it for Chicken Pox also. All the families did it.” That was before the MMR and Chicken Pox vaccines. With that question in mind let’s take a look at the sign and symptoms of Measles, how the current outbreak compares to previous years, why is Measles so contagious and a few other various questions and answers about Measles.

The U.S. measles outbreak now includes at least 102 infected people in 14 states (at the time this article was written). 102 cases in 14 states equals 1 outbreak representing 92% of reported cases this year. Most of the cases have been tied to Disneyland in Southern California. The outbreak has many people wondering why a disease that was eradicated from the United States in the year 2000 is now infecting so many people, and what role vaccination requirements may have had in the outbreak. The theme park has many international visitors, and measles is brought into the United States every year by unvaccinated travelers who contract the disease in other countries, especially in Western Europe, Pakistan, Vietnam and the Philippines according to the CDPH. In addition, people who live in the U.S. and travel overseas can contract the virus and spread it to unprotected people after they return home, which can lead to an outbreak.

An infected person who coughs or sneezes can spray the virus into the air in small droplets, which can remain suspended for up to two hours. People with measles are infectious for about four days before and four days after the appearance of the rash. Before there was a vaccine, nearly everyone in the United States became infected with measles before the age of 15. The disease kills about 1,000 people infected, and those who survive have lifelong immunity.

Behind the push to vaccinate as many people as possible is a concept called herd immunity. If the vaccination rate within a community is very high, vaccinated people act as a barrier and reduce the risk of infection for people who cannot be immunized, like the very young or those with compromised immune systems.

To maintain herd immunity within a community over time, children need to be vaccinated at a high rate. The measles vaccine is ineffective in about 5 percent of people who have had only one dose, so two doses are recommended to ensure that nearly all children will get immunity before entering school.

Now let’s get down to the question at hand that my friend asked me. “What’s the big deal if I get measles”? Measles typically begins with *high fever, *cough, *runny nose (coryzal), *red, watery eyes. Two or three days after symptoms begin, tiny white spots (Koplik spots) may appear inside the mouth. Three to five days after symptoms begin, a rash breaks out. A fever may spike to more than 104°.

(SPOTS continues on pg. 6)

Common measles complications include ear infections and diarrhea. Ear infections occur in about one out of every 10 children with measles and can result in permanent hearing loss. Diarrhea is reported in less than one out of 10 people with measles. Some people may suffer from severe complications, such as pneumonia (infection of the lungs) and encephalitis (swelling of the brain). They may need to be hospitalized and could die. As many as one out of every 20 children with measles gets pneumonia the most common cause of death from measles in young children. Another tid bit of information is about one child out of every 1,000 who get measles will develop encephalitis, that can lead to convulsions and can leave the child deaf or mentally retarded. And one more thing is for every 1,000 children who get measles, one or two will die from it.

I would like to answer a few questions, but my answers will be short because of the limited space for this article. If you are interested in this subject I will leave it up to you to do some research on your own.

If you've been vaccinated can you still get measles? YES, but about 3% who receive two doses for the measles vaccine will get measles if they come in contact.

Why do children need to receive two MMR shots? The original trials of the measles vaccine, the shot was 98 to 99 % effective. In practice, the vaccine protected only 92 to 93% of children. To cover the remaining 7 to 8% of children the CDC recommended that children get two doses of the shot.

Why can't babies get the measles shot? Once they are born, babies maintain a passive immunity for about the first six to eight months of their lives, before it starts to wane. If babies were given the measles, mumps and rubella (MMR) shot during this period, the vaccine wouldn't do a good job of stimulating the immune system to fight the virus.

Does the vaccine last for life? If you got to measles vaccines when you were a child, you are considered protected for life, the CDC says.

Is it ever too late to get vaccinated? The CDC recommends that anyone who is now age 18 or older and who was born after 1956 should get at least one dose of the MMR vaccine, unless they can show that they have either been vaccinated or had all three diseases.

How is measles spread if most people are vaccinated? Measles can spread even in a highly vaccinated population because the virus is so transmissible.

Can measles virus mutate, and make the vaccine less effective? It's extremely unlikely that measles virus will become more transmissible, deadly, or that the vaccine will stop being effective in protecting people against it.

Does my state require children to be up-to-date with immunizations before entering public school? All states require children to be up-to-date
(SPOTS continues on pg 7)

(SPOTS from pg. 6)

date with immunizations before entering public kindergarten, but allow children to opt out of vaccinations for medical reasons. Aside from those rules, states' laws vary: some exemptions based on religious beliefs. About 20 states allow parents to opt out of vaccinating their schoolchildren for philosophical reasons, including moral, personal or other beliefs

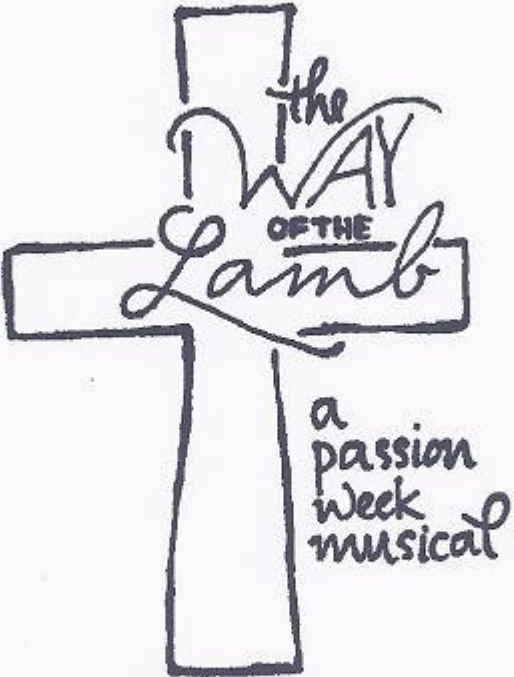

STAY SAFE

Ketti Walker, RN

P.S. I started this article the last week, by the time I was ready to send the article to print the numbers have changed. January 1, 2015 to February 13, 2015 141 people have gotten the measles, in 17 states. 141 cases, 2 outbreaks.

Bailey & Kayla at the State Tournament!

Kayla Tilton and Bailey Payne are members of the 2014 Hornets Volleyball Team that placed 4th at the 1A State Volleyball Tournament last fall. They have been selected to travel to the UK and play volleyball on an International Tours Team. To do so they need to raise over $5,500 apiece by May 30th. The $5,500 will cover two meals a day, overseas travel, airfare, luggage, and uniforms.

If you have a job opportunity (such as yard/house work, babysitting, etc.), or fundraising ideas please text or call 541.530.7989 to leave a message. You can also send a donation by mail to PO Box 235, Camas Valley, OR 97416. Checks can be made out to Bailey Payne or Kayla Tilton.

Kayla and Bailey have had the privilege of growing up and playing sports together since the little league years. Last summer they attended an NBC Volleyball camp. Both of them were honored to receive the All Star award for that camp! While at the camp, they were given the opportunity to apply for NBC's International Tours Team, which will be travelling to the United Kingdom for two weeks this summer. If you have any questions about where the girls will be traveling to, what their thoughts are on getting to travel to other countries and play volleyball internationally, come and see them Thursday, March 5th at 5:30 at their BINGO & Spaghetti Feed fund raiser which is being held at the Camas Valley Grange.

Superintendent's Message

I'm going to use this month's superintendent's space as more of a news bulletin to update the community on some important doings in our district.

Our 2nd annual Academic Awards Night celebration will be April 30th, at 6:00 p.m. in the gymnasium. We had a terrific time last year having a formal event with the community. We will continue the theme of mimicking the academy awards and making this a formal celebration. We have taken notes on how to make the event even better (if that is possible). You should notice a smoother and shorter event that still celebrates the great things our students are doing. We will provide a dessert and small food item to tide you over, but it will not be a full meal. Please plan appropriately. Please save this date on your calendar and we will give you more information in the near future.

We will be trying to repair and improve our football field this Spring. We have already aerated the field and will be planting more grass in early March. We ask everyone to please stay off the field in March and April to allow the seedlings time to set. Hopefully this will help us have a great playing surface that will look terrific come next fall.

There could be a new electronic reader board in our future. We have received approval from the county to put in a new reader board that would be easier to update and easier to read. We plan to put it on the opposite side of the parking lot of the current sign. If all goes well, this project would be complete this summer.

The school recently purchased and received a brand new bus. State requirements are changing for buses. Some of our older buses won't meet the new standards in a few years, so in order to keep our fleet compliant, we are upgrading our fleet. We will need at least one more bus in the next two years to assure that our fleet meets all the state standards. The new bus is a beauty, and it came in our school colors!!

Go Hornets!!

Dear Mr. Lee and Mr. Williams:

I wanted to write and commend your student – athletes for their actions at our boys basketball league game on Friday, February 13, 2015.

This game was Pacific High School's Senior Recognition Night. We have three senior boys on the team, one who has Down syndrome whose name is Austin. Austin has played high school basketball all four years of high school and playing basketball is one of Austin's greatest joys. He has never suited up for a varsity basketball game in his entire career. Friday night was the first time Austin had ever sat on the bench for a varsity game.

With two minutes left to go in the game, our coach subbed Austin into the game for his first and final time playing varsity basketball at Pacific. What Camas Valley's team and crowd did next was above and beyond what we could have ever dreamed for Austin's Senior Recognition night. Austin guarded Camas Valley's Ryland Brown, who, after dribbling the ball up the court with Austin "guarding" him, let Austin steal the ball and go to Pacific's basket so he could shoot a basket. Ryland did this twice.

Each time Austin shot and missed, Camas Valley's team, along with Pacific's team, rebounded and encouraged Austin to keep shooting until he made a basket. When Austin made the basket, boys on both teams gave Austin high fives. Austin scored four points in the game. After each basket, the home crowd, Camas Valley's crowd and bench, cheered loudly for Austin. After he had scored his last basket, Austin was taken out of the game to a standing ovation. When I looked into the crowd, I saw not only Pacific's crowd standing, but also Camas Valley's crowd standing. What I noticed most, however, was that Camas Valley's girls' basketball team was standing for Austin, cheering loudly as well.

What this game meant to Austin was more than anyone could ever imagine. Having everybody, including the opponents, support Austin as he suited up as a Pirate for a final time was an experience that he will never forget. Camas Valley did not have to let Austin score 2 baskets, nor did they have to give him a standing ovation as he left the game. I appreciate that your student – athletes' were able to go above and beyond loyalty to a school and be able to be a positive part of creating a spectacular memory for a very amazing young man. For that, I thank each and every one of them.

Sincerely,

Krista Nieraeth

This Month's Sample STANDARDIZED TEST INFORMATION

Along with the Computer portion of the Reading and Math Smarter Balanced Assessment given to grades 3-8 and 11th graders, there is also a Performance Task part. To be sure all students will understand the basics of the performance task, Language Arts and Math teachers will conduct a classroom activity to pre-prepare students. It is vital that students are in school for the classroom activity part since much of the information they will take away from it will be the discussion between students. Teachers will act as facilitators not presenters of information. Once the students have experienced the classroom activity they will then have time on computers to answer questions related to the activity and apply their thinking to the real-life situation presented. Language Arts performance tasks will need 2 days in the computer lab; Math needs only 1.

Following is an example of an 11th grade performance task entitled "Speeding Ticket".

11th grade Sample SBAC Item

Classroom interaction activity

- *students given data on speeding fine systems from several states.
- *terms and notations are explained and discussed
- *similarities and differences are discussed
- *comparisons made
- *hypothetical situations presented for group to discuss

The classroom activity is a scripted lesson for the teacher to follow. Most interaction is between students.

11th grade Sample SBAC item

Computer Portion

- *After being part of the classroom discussions students will then take time in the computer lab to apply their math reasoning skills to a situation centered around the classroom activity topic.
- *Students asked to plot data and extend further
- *Students asked to create an equation to calculate fines for multiple systems
- *Students asked to use Lines of Best Fit to analyze data
- *Students asked to support their opinions of a new speeding fine system and to support their thoughts with specific examples from task.

Looking for a few good people...

Camas Valley School is looking for substitute teachers. If you have a bachelor's degree and would be interested in substituting at the K-12 level, please contact the office at 541-445-2131.

Celebration of Learning March 9-12

The entire week of March 9-12 will be a Celebration of Learning promoting reading, books, and post-secondary education at Camas Valley Community Charter School. Besides a week long Book Swap and Door Decorating Contest, each day will have a special theme. The Book Swap will be located in the library where students can exchange books they have already read for someone else's. Students will decorate doors with the theme of their teacher's favorite book—winning class wins a cookies and milk party!

Monday

Oh, the Places You Will Go!

Elementary students will use this classic as a springboard to explore future possibilities. Older students will have a college scavenger hunt with a drawing for college-related prizes!

Tuesday

Where's Waldo?

Youngsters hunt for Waldo throughout the school and turn in for prizes. Middle and high schoolers will search for college mascots and match them with the right college for prizes.

Wednesday

Favorite Book Day

Staff and students dress as their favorite literary character. Third period will offer an opportunity for 20 min. to read your favorite book! No hassles!

Thursday

Dr. Seuss Day

All things Seussy! Dress up, reading, projects, favorite quote wall, and trivia game with a Dr. Seuss prize.

Carnival!

Running from after school until 6 pm on Thursday the 12th, there will be carnival games, bounce house, cotton candy, popcorn, and snowcones. Tickets will be 25¢ and each booth will have posted the number of tickets required. Students will be able to win prizes and treats! College representatives, recruiters, and other scholarship programs will be present in this fun, friendly, and relaxed environment for students and parents to visit and explore options.

BOXTOPS FOR EDUCATION!

"Just Desserts" for Education raised $245.90 for our school. A total of 2459 box tops were turned in. The voting was close until the last day when Mr. Williams pulled ahead for the "win".

Final Results

Mr. Lee - 962

Mr. Williams - 1381

Winning Class - Mrs. Carkhuff's with 669 box tops.

A name will be drawn from Mrs. Carkhuff's class to "administer" the pie to Mr. Williams — date TBA

Way to go, Middle School Lady Hornets!

Congratulations to the 2015 Middle School Girls Basketball Teams. This year was an exciting season with 13 Hornets turning out we were able to have 2 teams which means more court time for everyone! The B team finished 2nd in league, falling short by one point to the Days Creek Wolves. The A team finished 2nd league, advancing to the Little Fir Final Four Tournament, a goal they had set for themselves at the beginning of the season!

The following girls committed themselves to 6 weeks of hard work: Megan Hall, Aleese Thompson, Olivia Dedmon, Krystal Talley, Hailey Holmgren, Charlotte Gidcumb, Bethany Krissie, Brooklyn Wolfe, Noel Krissie, Shelby Payne, Catheryn Casteel, Natasha Hibdon, Morgan Banks. A big Thank You to all the parents for all the support as well. It takes family commitment to finish strong. Best of luck to the 8th graders moving on to High School. Remember great players are made in the off season. May all your swishes come true!
